A New Look for the MB Friends

Notice anything different? The Morro Bay Friends of the Library Board of Directors is proud to present our new logo. Our goal was to use a professional designer with strong ties to our local community. We enlisted the talent of local graphic designer Heather Barbis (HB Design) who donated her time and expertise to design our new look. HB Design is based in Morro Bay and specializes in print media. Heather has over ten years of graphic design experience and has been honored with many professional awards, including three awards in 2011 from the national competition in Graphic Design USA magazine. With degrees in Visual Communications and Journalism, she loves her job because it is a practical application of art, and she gets to be creative every day. Heather and her husband have lived in Morro Bay for three years and are happy to be raising their young daughter here.

“The community of Morro Bay is made up of a great group of people. Everyone seems to care about the community and each other.” When she was approached for the project, she says, “I decided to donate my time in creating the Friends of the Library logo because a friend [Christine Johnson] was at the helm of an organization that has the ability to touch so many lives.”

Happy 30th Anniversary, Friends!

Fall of 2012 marks the 30th anniversary of the incorporation of the Friends of the Library organization. In addition to the many ongoing programs and activities supported by the Friends, we will also be taking some time to celebrate our “maturity”. We start the year with our new fresh logo and look. Soon to follow will be a revamped website. We anticipate hitting new milestones in both individual and business members this year, and we look forward to celebrating with all our Friends at events this summer and fall. Check our newsletters and website for updates on these events. We look forward to having you join us as we CELEBRATE our anniversary, PROMOTE our membership, EDUCATE our members about our many wonderful programs, FUNDRAISE for the library remodel project, and THANK our hundreds of members and volunteers for all their support. Happy Anniversary!

Save the Date: The next BOOK SALE is February 11

Meet the New Editor - Another Joan P.

Last fall, Christine Johnson (FOL President) put out a call for a new editor for the Among Friends newsletter. Christine’s call happened to coincide with my desire to volunteer my time and talents for a local non-profit, and the rest is history! It seems I’ve come on board at a busy time: the 30th Anniversary, a new logo, and exciting plans for a possible remodel project. Red Davis has done an excellent job with this newsletter over the past years and has been so helpful in this transition. I’m greatly indebted to him for his support. With the unveiling of the new logo and the passing of the editorial baton, I’ve made some changes to the look of the newsletter. The new look is a bit of a work in progress, so I hope you will feel free to send me your feedback and ideas for both content and design.

One special perk of working on the FOL board is that I get to work alongside my former second grade teacher, Joan Petersen. It’s enough of a coincidence to have three out of the eleven board members named Joan (including Joan Decker), but to have two of us with the same first and last name is particularly rare. Our almost-identical names (hers is “Petersen” and mine is “Pedersen”) have already caused much confusion. If you happen to be doing any email or other FOL business, please keep in mind which one of us you really mean to contact. Joan Petersen is the volunteer coordinator and handles all things volunteer-related. I (Joan Pedersen) am primarily responsible for the newsletter and its content. We are getting pretty good at passing along emails that are meant for the “other Joan P.” I’m sure the confusion will persist, despite our best efforts. But that's OK, because I think the world of my former teacher and would gladly be mistaken for such an energetic, caring and out-going woman! I’m always open to hearing your ideas for the newsletter, so please feel free to send them my way. Happy Reading!
Happy New Year, Friends!

Morro Bay Friends of the Library is 456 members strong—thank you for joining! Within in the last year, we’ve swelled our ranks and are especially pleased to see an increase in Business Memberships. In this edition (pg. 11) there is a list of local businesses that support your Morro Bay Library. Shop their businesses. Use their services. And, do tell them that the Friends sent you.

Hang onto your hats! 2012 promises to be an active year for the Friends and for your Morro Bay Library. Here is a preview of two major projects.

Happy 30th Birthday, MBFOL! We’ll be celebrating this milestone for our organization all year long in various ways—large and small. Watch for more info on events—for adults and children—to be revealed soon.

There has been a flurry of activity on the Library Remodel project in January. The MBFOL remodel committee members are: Robert ‘Red’ Davis (Chair), Laurie Allen, Jan Goldman, Susan Gossard, Jackie Kinsey (MB Library Branch Manager), Joan Petersen and me. Meetings have occurred between the City of Morro Bay and the County of SLO in preparation for beginning the design phase of the remodel, and in January the Board voted on a vision/mission for the project. Watch for more news about the remodel in future newsletters. And, please do ask any one of the committee members for an update.

This newsletter is the first from our new volunteer Newsletter Editor, Joan Pedersen! With her leadership and skill, the MBFOL will continue to create timely and informative newsletter for our members.

I’d like to give special thanks to Heather Barbis of HB Designs in Morro Bay for her creative talent and vision in helping us create a new logo as we celebrate our 30th year. Heather’s efforts in assisting the Friends were entirely voluntary!

A final question before I close: Is 2012 the year that you have told yourself, “I’m going to get more involved in my library”? If so, join us now! We have many volunteer opportunities to fit your time and interest. Be in touch with me, and I’ll tell you more.

My thanks, and see you at the Library!

Christine

Book Sale Report from Laurie Allen

“Remember, remember the 5th of November!” No, I don’t mean Guy Fawkes Day in Britain, which we Anglophiles remember as the day some plotters attempted to blow up the Parliament building in London, with all the members inside. This was back in 1605, and was popularly called the Gunpowder Plot.

No, my reason for remembering this past November 5th was that we had a wonderful book sale, which raised $3,855 for our Morro Bay Library. If you still have not visited us in the Community Center for the book sale, please come in for the next one, on February 11th. There is a real party atmosphere and a chance to see friends, buy books, and have fun. As a member you get in early, at 9 a.m., before the public opening at 10 a.m.

At this coming sale we will have a lot of beautiful art books, history, tons of children's books, and a few intriguing odds and ends. So please join us! And, if you have books to donate, please bring them in to the library soon.

Members browsed and shopped among thousands of books at the Book Sale, and some left carrying bag loads of reading material.
A Tribute to Jane Horton Bailey by Jude Sanner Long

Jane Horton Bailey (1916 - 2011) was a friend to the library, to the community, to the planet and she was a friend to me.

“It is necessary, therefore it is possible.” G. A. Borgese

Have you noticed this quote on a plaque at the library door? The dedication is to Jane and Don Bailey for their leadership and tireless efforts on behalf of the Morro Bay Library. The first Friends of the Library meeting was at Jane and Don’s home in 1974. The group worked closely with librarians Dorothy Woods and Jean Castle to improve the tiny library at 410 Morro Bay Blvd. I was hired in 1975 and soon grew to know the Baileys and the other founding members of the Friends.

Who could have predicted that 10 years later Jane’s talents and relentless drive would culminate in a new library building at 625 Harbor St.? But there on the sunny Saturday morning of December 21, 1985 we all gathered on the beautiful new patio with the Morro Bay White Caps Community Band playing as school children released balloons with the message, “Love my Library”. The Opening Ceremonies proceeded with accolades and thanks to the over 2000 people who had contributed in one way or another to make the building grow into reality. The exhausted Jane and Don were surrounded by the love and support of the entire community.

And there, with Peter Ladochy’s tile mural picturing the past and future of Morro Bay and with Wachtang Kresheli’s black serpentine sculpture entitled “Carpe Diem” standing in the patio, a new era in library services began.

Jane and Don were especially proud that the library building project drew diverse portions of the community together, united against all odds, to create great pride in the successful completion of the building.

The library shelves hold three titles that Jane wrote. In 1973 the Sea Otter’s Struggle was published followed by Sea Otter – Core of Conflict: Loved or Loathed in 1979. Then in 1982 Jane teamed up with Dorothy L. Gates to co-author a book that many of you have in your homes. The first and only definitive history of our community was titled Morro Bay’s Yesterdays.

Jane H. Bailey was a Morro Bay community leader, author, historian, activist, environmentalist, library advocate and a wonderfully strong and motivated woman who was dedicated to make the world a better place for everyone.

Jane, you are loved and will be missed,

Jude Sanner Long,
Morro Bay Librarian, 1975-2009
Volunteer Coordinator Joan Petersen Interviews Book Sale Volunteers

Laurie Allen, MBFOL’s Book Sale Director, who spends many waking hours in the book room sorting, pricing and packing books between each sale, to say nothing of working non-stop Friday and Saturday of the sales.

Q. How long have you been volunteering for the book sales & how did you first get involved?

A. I’ve been volunteering at the Morro Bay Library for about 7 or 8 years now. I started by doing general shelving, but wanted to work in the book room. Because of my background in used book sales and libraries, I was asked to assist Mo, the sale coordinator, with pricing. I moved up to book sale director when she left.

Q. What keeps you coming back to volunteer sale after sale?

A. The truth is that I find it hard to quit when I think we can still improve the sale and make even more money for the library! I really enjoy working with the volunteers the weekend of the sale. Everyone is so energetic, and we have such a good time setting up and working the day of the sale. The number of volunteers for our size community is astounding. Just think- every 3 months we get almost 60 people to come help on the Friday set-up and the Saturday sale day. Pretty amazing!

Also, I have always been a reader, and it’s wonderful to be around groups of people who enjoy reading as much as I do. I’ve spent more time in libraries throughout my life than anywhere else.

Supporting my branch library is something that I’ve always done, and I hope to continue for a long time.

This is the book storage room. Laurie is likely in there somewhere!

Sharon Farrell, a volunteer who generally teams with Rachelle Phillips cashiering for MBFOL book sales but “steps up to the plate” where and whenever needed.

Q. How long have you been volunteering for the book sales & how did you first get involved?

A. As a former teacher, I know how important a library is to the vitality of a community. Of course, I frequently visit the library, so it was natural that I began volunteering for the book sale set-up. What fun that is to be part of the set-up of the different sections of books! That eventually led to helping cashier at the actual sale which is even more fun. I enjoy seeing community friends on both of those days. It feels good to be part of such a great, very organized event that benefits our public library.

Q. What keeps you coming back to volunteer sale after sale?

A. I really enjoy working for the book sales. You always meet such nice people, and the staff is great to work with. It’s always so rewarding when someone finds a book they have been searching for or when children just can’t wait to read the books they’ve purchased. There is nothing like holding that book in your hands and reading and reading to get to the last page to find out how it ends. Libraries are our greatest source of books and it is so important to keep them open. The book sales are a great way to introduce this importance to the public.

Interviewer’s note: These are just three of the many, many wonderful Morro Bay Friends of the Library volunteers.

Monsieur Ladmiral, an aging impressionist painter, spends his usual Sunday afternoon visit with his family ruminating over life’s small pleasures and inevitable disappointments until his daughter Irene arrives. Irene, a whirlwind of activity for whom life itself is an art, has a magical reviving effect on her father and the world suddenly takes on the beautiful hues and feelings of an impressionist masterpiece.
Membership Report
from Susan Gossard

We have much to celebrate as Morro Bay Friends of the Library enters its 30th year. We gained 150 new members in 2011! This brings our current total membership to 456 as follows:

- Individual: 218
- Business: 13
- Family: 119
- Lifetime: 106

Members are at the heart of what we do, so THANK YOU to our new and many renewing members. Members are also our best ambassadors. Help us reach our goal of 500 members in 2012. Please continue to tell people about the important work the Friends do for your local Morro Bay library and encourage them to become Friends.

Happy new year and all the best to each of you this year.

Did you know?

The Morro Bay Book Discussion group started in 2006 mainly as a membership benefit for the Friends of the Library. The group meets Wednesdays at noon at the library and is open to all patrons. In its first year, the program drew a total of 454 attendees over the course of the year (meeting twice a month). This past 2011, the total attendance over the course of the year was 704! The popularity of this group led to the 4th Fridays Mystery Readers program which began in 2011. Over the course of ten meetings in 2011, the total attendance for the year was 102! In June, the group joined forces with a local business, The Cotton Ball, to co-host an author event with Earlene Fowler. The Cotton Ball donated a portion of its sales of Ms. Fowler's books on that day to the MBFOL.

These are all impressive numbers. The Friends of the Library is proud to sponsor these and other programs on behalf of the Morro Bay Library.

For more information on the Morro Bay Book Discussion Group, you can reach Karen at 805-225-3131.

Form 1/2012
The 2011 MBFOL annual meeting was held in the John Kim room last November 18. Attending members heard the latest news, voted on important issues and enjoyed a free lunch and presentation by Joelle Church of Morro Bay’s Shine Cafe and The Sunshine Health Food Store. Among the many items that might interest you are the following:

- A new member-at-large position was added to serve as a representative to the Foundation for SLO County Public Libraries. The 2012 Board members and their positions are listed on pg. 2. We didn’t lose any members from last year’s Board, but we did reshuffle positions a bit.
- Branch Manager Jackie Kinsey shared with us the positive response to E-books, that are now compatible with many eReader devices (including the Nook, iPhone/iPad, Android & Blackberry). Check out slolibrary.org/audiobooks.htm to see how easy it is to check out and read books on your portable device.
- The Friends are moving forward with plans to fund a remodel of the Morro Bay library building.
- We could use your help: Books are heavy! Laurie Allen, who runs the quarterly book sales, is in need of some periodic assistance with heavy lifting of boxes and books in the library’s book storage room. If you have some time and strength to offer, please contact her at booksales@morrobayfriendsoflibrary.org.
- The new Early Reader book program (a joint venture between Morro Bay Library and Del Mar Elementary) is a great success! The Friends helped fund books for use by all kindergarten and first grade students in our community.
- We ended 2011 with 464 members! Your Friends organization is going strong!

All those in attendance enjoyed a delicious (and healthy) lunch from Shine Cafe, and heard from chef Joelle Church about her culinary journey and Shine Cafe’s commitment to providing the community with healthy food made from quality ingredients and to making sure customers always know the ingredients of the food they’re eating.

If you’d like to try some of their good food, be sure to visit Shine Cafe (in the back of The Sunshine Health Food Store) at 415 Morro Bay Boulevard, Morro Bay.

The next generation of library FRIENDS!

Last year my New Years Resolution was to read. I tried to read. I tried and tried a lot. But this year I want to learn how to read chapter books. Mom will take me to the library. Gabriel Olivia found a little book just her size at the November Book Sale.

This young reader (and writer) knows where to find good reading material!

Kids brought their teddy bears to the library for a Teddy Bear Tea Party. After hearing stories read by Mary Blair, the kids and their bears were served tea and goodies by librarian Jackie Kinsey and other helpers.

A big “Thank You” to the Friends of the Library for helping with the purchase of this new children’s computer. Jade is playing one of its many educational programs and games.
